

Time to Teach™

Differentiated Instructional Strategies for student motivation & engagement

Course Credit Information

Upon successful completion of all course requirements, 1-3 semester graduate level professional development credits will be awarded. These credits are professional development units that are not part of a degree program; instead, these credits are primarily used for professional advancement (such as salary increment steps and recertification). Students are advised to seek approval of appropriate district or college officials before enrolling in this course to satisfy any degree, state credential, or local school district requirements. State licensing departments vary regarding their criteria for credit acceptance and one or two states may not accept credit from universities that are located outside the state.

Brandman University, a division of the Chapman University system is accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC).

Graduate Credit

You must attend the entire seminar, as well as complete all coursework through Brandman University.

All attendees will receive a personalized certificate of course completion at the end of the seminar which will verify participation in our seminar.

Chapman University partners with a number of national professional development organizations that offer seminars and workshops nationwide.

College Credit Available

Course fee is:

1 graduate credit for	$379.00
2 graduate credits for	$479.00
3 graduate credits for	$579.00

Complete coursework (within 6 months after the seminar)

Text: The 100+ page resource manual: Time To Teach™, Differentiated Instructional Strategies for student motivation & engagement, which is included in your seminar registration will serve as the text for this course.

Each participant in the six hour training will receive a 100+ page resource manual.
Time To Teach™, Differentiated Instructional Strategies for student motivation & engagement

Continuing Education Units (CEU's)

Educators who attend this seminar may receive continuing education units based on the number of hours of the seminar (usually 7-8 hours for a full-day seminar or 3-4 hours for a half-day seminar).

All attendees will receive a personalized certificate of course completion at the end of the seminar which will verify participation in our seminar.

If you have additional questions about college credit or continuing education units, please contact us at the phone numbers or email address listed below:

TLC Educational Solutions, LLC
Patricia A. Crum, Ed.D & Terry L. Crum, MS.
Web: TLCEducationalSolutions.com
Email: drcrum@tlceducationalsolutions.com
Phone: 402.431.2351